Learning Outcomes

By the end of this presentation, you can:

LEARNING PATHWAY TO VOLUNTEER IMPACT

01

Understand volunteerism

Define volunteerism and explain how freely given service helps people and communities.

02

Recognize core values

Identify solidarity, reciprocity, mutual trust, belonging, empowerment, justice, equality, and freedom.

03

Identify motivations

Explain why people volunteer: purpose, social mission, learning, self-fulfillment, and well-being.

04

Know sectors & projects

Recognize volunteer areas such as tree planting, blood drives, tutoring, welfare support, and civic action.

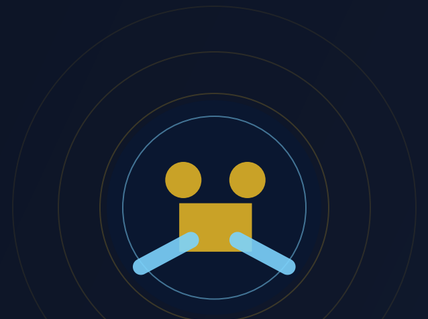

05

Use the Work Plan

Apply the five parts: desired outcome, action steps, time frame, supervision, and potential resources.

Key idea: Volunteerism is a skill, not just an activity — every outcome above can be practiced in your own project

What Is Volunteerism?

TIME + SERVICE + COMMUNITY

TIME

Freely giving your time, skills, and energy

SERVICE

Helping people, causes, and society without expecting money

COMMUNITY

Turning kindness into practical community support

Key idea: Volunteerism is not charity alone — it is time, service, and community working together.

Core Values of Volunteerism

VOLUNTEER VALUES

Solidarity
Stand together

Reciprocity
Give and receive

Mutual Trust
Believe in each other

Belonging
Be part of a group

Freedom
Choose to help

Justice & Equality
Fairness for all

Empowerment
Make people stronger

Key idea: These values guide every decision — ask whether your project shows solidarity, justice, and freedom.

Why Do People Volunteer?

Motivation connects personal purpose with public good.

Spiritual pursuit

Volunteering work builds faith, communication, and service to live out their values.

Social mission

People serve to help society, support others, and create positive change.

Volunteers gain new skills, knowledge, and practical experience in real settings.

Life experience

Volunteers understand other people and communities through shared experience.

Self-fulfillment

Serving others brings satisfaction, confidence, and a sense of achievement.

Mental well-being

Connection, service, and purpose support hope, confidence, and well-being.

Key idea: Motivation is personal and public at the same time — your reason to serve becomes your reason to grow.

Top Reasons to Volunteer

Benefits ripple from the individual to the whole community.

Key idea: Benefits move in a circle — the volunteer gains, the community gains, and both grow together.

Personal and Career Benefits

Key idea: Every project builds a transferable skill — teamwork, planning, and leadership that follow you into your career.

Volunteering Sectors

There is a place for every interest and skill.

Environment & Conservation
Protect nature through cleanups, tree planting, and disaster response.

Fundraising Activities
Raise resources for community projects, charities, and events.

Civic & Community Action
Join activities that improve public spaces, safety, and participation.

Sport & Recreation
Use games, exercise, and recreation to build health and teamwork.

Emergency & Health Services
Support first aid, health campaigns, blood drives, and disaster response.

Education & Youth Programs
Help children and young people learn, grow, and stay motivated.

Welfare & Social Support
Assist families, older adults, children, and people in need.

General Community Work
Give practical help through local projects, events, and outreach.
